Particularities of the Faculties

I. Particularities of the Corvinus Business School
II. Particularities of the Corvinus School of Economics

Other faculty scholarships of the Corvinus School of Economics:

a) Éva Kocsis Award
b) Excellent Student Award
c) Pro Facultate Junior Award

Funds for the above faculty scholarships: for full-time students, the Faculty may use funds other than student allowances pursuant to Section 10(3) of the Government Decree, in conformity with Section 85/B of the National Higher Education Act, from its own revenues as defined by Section 2(h) of the Government Decree.

Éva Kocsis Award

(1) Those students shall be eligible for the Éva Kocsis Award who, as demonstrators, have been participating in the teaching, researching or educational organization work of a department of the Faculty for years, and, in the view of the department that employs them, perform excellently.
(2) The Award shall be granted by the Dean on the recommendation of the Head of Department at the end of each academic year, to maximum 5-7 students.
(3) The cash prize that goes with the Éva Kocsis Award shall be funded by the Faculty from its own revenues.
(4) The Éva Kocsis Award shall be given at the Ceremonial Council Meeting for the Graduation Ceremony, organized at end of the academic year.
(5) For other criteria or conditions for and the manner of granting the Award, please refer to Annex 1 of the Organizational and Operational Regulations of Corvinus School of Economics.

Excellent Student Award

(1) The Excellent Student Award shall be given to that student who is in the last year of his/her studies and best meets the below criteria:
   a) His/her credit-weighted academic average of obligatory specialized subjects (for BA/BSc and MA/MSc programmes) or of the subjects of his/her main specialization (eight subjects and the special two-semester seminar) (for conventional university programmes) is 5.00.
   b) His/her result of the complex examination (for conventional university programmes, the complex examination of the main specialization) is “excellent”.
   c) His/her degree thesis is evaluated as “excellent” by the assessor(s) and in the course of degree thesis defence part of the final examination.
   d) The assessment of his/her degree certificate is “excellent”.
   e) At the Ceremonial Council Meeting for the Graduation Ceremony, organized at end of the academic year, he/she is granted his/her degree certificate (that is, he/she has the language exam certificate(s) required for the degree certificate).
(2) The Excellent Student Award shall be granted by the Dean, on the recommendation of the heads of degree programmes or heads of specializations, broken down by BA/BSc and MA/MSc programme (for conventional university programmes, by main specialization) to that/those student(s) who best meet(s) the above criteria at the given degree programme or specialization.
(3) The cash prize that goes with the Excellent Student Award shall be funded by the Faculty from its own revenue.
(4) For other criteria or conditions for and the manner of granting the Excellent Student Award, please refer to Annex 1 of the Organizational and Operational Regulations of Corvinus School of Economics.
Pro Facultate Junior Award

(1) Those BA/BSc or MA/MSc students of the Faculty shall be eligible for the Pro Facultate Junior Award who are in the last year of their studies, and in the course of their studies have performed well and contributed significantly to the strengthening of the Faculty community and to the improvement of community life.

(2) The Award shall be granted by a five-member committee, on the basis of the recommendations submitted by students and teachers to the call, broken down by level of training. The members of the committee: the Dean of the Faculty, the Vice Dean for Study Affairs of the Faculty, the Vice Dean for Education of the Faculty, the Head of Dean's Office of the Faculty and the Chair of the Students' Council of the Faculty or his/her delegate.

(3) The call for recommendations shall be published, and the submitted recommendations shall be collected and prepared for decision-making for the committee by the Dean's Office of the Faculty.

(4) The cash prize that goes with the Award shall be funded by the Faculty from its own revenue.

(5) For other criteria or conditions for and the manner of granting the Award, please refer to Annex 1 of the Organizational and Operational Regulations of Corvinus School of Economics.
III. Particularities of the Faculty of Social Sciences and International Relations

Other faculty scholarships of the Faculty of Social Sciences and International Relations:

a) Pro Facultate Junior Award

Pro Facultate Junior Award

(1) Those BA/BSc or MA/MSc students of the Faculty shall be eligible for the Pro Facultate Junior Award who are in the last year of their studies, and in the course of the studies have performed well and contributed significantly to the strengthening of the Faculty community and to the improvement of community life.

(2) The Award shall be granted by a five-member committee, on the basis of the recommendations submitted by students and teachers to the call, broken down by level of training. The members of the committee: the Dean of the Faculty, the Vice Dean for Education of the Faculty, the international Vice Dean of the Faculty, the Head of Dean's Office of the Faculty and the Chair of the Students' Council of the Faculty or his/her delegate. The call for recommendations shall be published, and the submitted recommendations shall be collected and prepared for decision-making for the committee by the Dean's Office of the Faculty.

(3) The Award shall be given at the Ceremonial Council Meeting for the Graduation Ceremony, organized at end of the academic year. The Award consists of a medal in a medal box, a ceremonial certificate on the award, and a cash prize of HUF 50,000. The ceremonial certificate is signed by the Dean and dated the day of the award ceremony.